1 It is understood, at the pre-school level, that a child must occasionally miss school due to infectious
2 illness, health, safety and emergency reason. However, in order to insure the highest level of success in
3 each child's overall development, it is strongly recommended that each student strive to have excellent
4 daily attendance in preschool whenever that is that is possible.

5
6 If a child must miss school, the student needs to bring a note of explanation from the parent, legal
7 guardian and or doctor to the teacher upon returning to school.

8
9 If a child shows a pattern of habitual absenteeism, a meeting will be held with the pre-school teacher,
10 parent, legal guardian and administrator to consider the cause of the excessive absence and to formulate a
11 plan for the child's future.

13 The pre-school handbook contains more information concerning health and safety, infectious illness
14 control and emergencies.
